THE E-CLOSING REVOLUTION

E-Closing was designed by title insurance professionals who were not satisfied with the tools available to them. Most title processing systems are extremely cumbersome and require days or weeks of costly training. E-Closing was designed to be user friendly and intuitive so that the learning curve and cost of training is a fraction of the competitions. E-Closing requires only 2-3 hours of training.

We took a step back approach and designed our software to automate any task we saw as redundant. Because of this, there is a lower risk of error when processing files through E-Closing and processors or paralegals can spend more time supporting clients and less time fixing mistakes.
