

MARK BOBROWSKI, ESQ.

→ Mr. Bobrowski has been a professor at the New England School of law since 1986, where he teaches Land Use Law, Real Property, and Administrative Law. He is also a principal in the firm of Blatman, Bobrowski & Mead, LLC, with offices in Concord, Massachusetts. He is the author of the Handbook of Massachusetts Land Use and Planning Law, now in its second edition. The Handbook is frequently cited by the courts of the Commonwealth in their reported decisions regarding land use matters. Mr. Bobrowski has also written numerous articles on topics ranging from affordable housing to protection of the scenic landscape.

→ Mr. Bobrowski's teaching and practice have focused his expertise to all aspects of zoning, subdivision control and affordable housing. He is frequently engaged by municipalities to assist with large projects, particularly those requiring complicated zoning changes or development agreements. He has served as a mediator with the Massachusetts Office of Dispute Resolution in Chapter 40B affordable housing appeals to the Housing Appeals Committee. He has litigated dozens of land use cases before the Land Court and Superior Court, and argued many times at the appellate level.

→ Mr. Bobrowski has written zoning ordinances and by-laws for nearly 100 of the Commonwealth's cities and towns, and is a regular speaker at the conferences of the City Solicitor and Town Counsel Association of Massachusetts, the Massachusetts Municipal Association, the Mass. Continuing Legal Education Program, and the Massachusetts Building Commissioners Association, among others. He served on Governor Romney's Task Force for Affordable Housing and now serves on Governor Patrick's Zoning Task Force, charged with reforming the Zoning Act.

Mediator

Arbitrator

JOHN G. "JACK" WOFFORD, ESQ.

→ Mr. Wofford practices full time as a neutral, with an emphasis on mediation and arbitration services. In the 1970's, Mr. Wofford served in both state and federal government- as Director of the Boston Transportation Planning Review, as Associate Commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works, as the first Director of the Central Transportation Planning Staff for the Boston region, and as Deputy General Counsel of the US Department of Transportation.

→ Joining the law firm of Csaplar & Bok, he became a partner in 1981 and was a member of the firm's Real Estate Department, specializing in complex development projects.

→ In 1987 Mr. Wofford joined Endispute, Inc., as a Senior Consultant providing dispute resolution and legal management consulting. In solo practice since 1993, he mediates a wide variety of disputes, including real estate, employment, environmental, commercial and family business matters, and disputes involving professional liability of lawyers, architects, engineers, surveyors and other professionals in construction, development and real estate matters. He has also worked with issues of title insurance companies for damages from alleged wrongful certification of title, of bonding companies for failures in construction and of tort liability insurers for environmental clean up and damages from hazardous waste.

→ Mr. Wofford graduated from Harvard College and Oxford University where he was a Rhodes Scholar. He earned his LLB at Harvard Law School and then served as law clerk to a US District Judge. He received mediation training at Endispute, the Massachusetts Office of Dispute Resolution, the Program on Negotiation at Harvard Law School and the Cambridge Dispute Settlement Center.

→ In the year 1999, President Clinton appointed Mr. Wofford to a term on the Federal Services Impasses Panel, a seven-member resolution panel on federal labor negotiation involving the federal government as employer and bargaining units representing federal employees.

Mediator

Arbitrator