

Commercial Real Estate Finance Associate

NEW YORK

Robinson+Cole, an Am Law 200 Firm, seeks an Attorney with four to seven years' experience to join its dynamic and growing Real Estate + Development practice group in its New York City office.

Robinson+Cole's Real Estate + Development practice regularly represents lenders, buyers, sellers and owners in commercial real estate transactions on a national basis. Representative clients include national banks, mortgage banks, developers, and owners of all classes of real estate assets. In the area of affordable housing and finance, lawyers in our Real Estate + Development Group offer representation in these three areas: Finance, Development, and Public Finance.

Qualified candidates will have experience representing clients in lenders in commercial real estate finance transactions, including construction lending transactions. Strong fundamentals, including experience with title and survey review, loan document drafting, and condominium and zoning review are required. Experience with affordable housing, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac lender transactions is a plus. Candidates should work well as part of a team and enjoy a fast-paced work environment.

Admission to the New York bar is required. Top academic and transactional credentials, excellent writing, research, negotiation, and communication skills also required. The base salary range for New York based candidates in this position is $195,000 to $220,000. Actual base salary within that range will be determined by several components including but not limited to the individual's class year, years of experience, skills, qualifications and office location.
