

Litigation Attorney

McGregor Law Group PC is a small, established law firm in Boston, the oldest such boutique firm in Massachusetts, with a close-knit staff with many years of experience, seeking to add a new attorney to our team.

We seek an experienced lawyer admitted in Massachusetts with a minimum of three (3) years of environmental law, land use, real estate, energy, or climate-related civil litigation experience in the Massachusetts courts.

An ideal candidate would transition from a government position to the private sector, move from an environmental advocacy organization, a mid-level associate who sees no path to becoming a partner at their current firm, or a senior attorney looking to slow down and specialize.

Trial, discovery, and motion practice in the Massachusetts courts are essential qualifications. Experience in federal courts or agency adjudicatory hearings is a plus.

As this is a litigation position, a candidate must like litigation, be good at it, and be able to handle all types and stages of litigation. For the right candidate, this is a potential partnership track position or a lateral partner move.

Salary starting at $200,000 plus benefits.

This is a relaxed work environment, matching work style and lifestyle. Most employees here work about 2,000 hours per year total. The billable hour requirement is around 1,400 per year.

Benefits Include:

- Full health and dental coverage. The firm reimburses 100% of health plan deductibles and co-pays.
- Vacation, sick and personal days
- Downtown and home offices (hybrid work)
- All legal memberships and subscriptions
- Available 401(k) retirement program, with 4% employer matching
- Firm pays for commuter rail passes and Charlie Cards
